NOTE: Attorneys seeking to appear pro hac vice may wish to consider filing a petition for admission to the general bar of this Court. The fee for admission to the General Bar is $181.00. The fee for pro hac vice admission is $150.00. Admission to the general bar permits an attorney to practice before this Court. Pro hac vice admission entitles an attorney to appear in a particular case only. Application for such admission must be made in each case; and the admission fee must be paid in each case.

Has the applicant ever been:

transferred to inactive status, voluntarily withdrawn, or resigned from the bar of any court? Yes

I was admitted to the Bar of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in 1989 upon graduation from law school and soon thereafter began a tour of duty in the U.S. Marine Corps as a JAG Officer. After my four-year tour of duty, I gained admission to the Mississippi Bar where I have practiced continuously since that time. As a result, I have not maintained active status as a member of the Pennsylvania Bar, but it is not because of any disciplinary reasons.
